Can the stormwater drain be repaired at approximately 301 Edgewood? Staff evaluated the open end of the pipe located at 300/302 Edgewood for the possibility of extending the pipe and/or possibly installing a catch basin starting near the existing pipe opening under the driveway. The ditch above the pipe opening is the first inlet of this stormwater system, catching water from the road and the homes above. The extended ditch allows for this water to be captured efficiently and minimizes stormwater bypassing the pipe inlet. For this reason, extending the pipe would prevent water capture. Three obstacles prevent us from converting the pipe opening to a catch basin : <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. The pipe has minimal soil cover and the City would not be able to install a catch basin that shallow;2. A utility pole is occupying the space where a catch basin would need to be installed to maintain the water capture the current pipe opening is providing; and,3. A sewer tap is located where the catch basin would need to be installed.	Complete
Do we have an update on the stormwater issue on Wren Street? The Stormwater Project for Wren St. is currently in preliminary design. The City is working with citizens on obtaining a drainage easement to discharge the water outside of the right-of-way. Once an easement has been obtained, the City will proceed with a full design and construction.	In Progress
Can the potholes on Highland Drive (near Pendleton Rd. intersection) be repaired? Can the potholes on Pendleton Rd. (near Highland Drive) be repaired? These are state roads and under the jurisdiction of SCDOT. Our Public Works Director has contacted SCDOT with these concerns.	In Progress
Can a street sign be added on Berkeley Drive at the Issaqueena Trail Intersection? These are also state roads and under the jurisdiction of SCDOT. Our Public Works Director has contacted SCDOT to get a street sign at the end of Berkeley and Issaqueena.	In Progress
Can Issaqueena be widened for pedestrian safety? Issaqueena Trail is a state road and adding sidewalks would be a 2 million dollar project that would require participation and support from the SCDOT. The city was recently awarded a safe streets for all grant that will identify traffic and pedestrian safety issues that need to be addressed. Once these issues are identified, we will be eligible to apply for funding to address those needs. This project would fall in that category. Recipients of the SS4A grants will be able to use alternative funding sources provided by the Federal Highway Administration to implement roadway safety improvements.	Ongoing
When will Monaco Drive be repaved? Monaco was repaved in 2012, we are currently on a 37 year repavement cycle, and Monaco is 135 of 261 on the list of roads to be repaved based on our 2022 pavement condition index.	Ongoing
